Sets Aside Large Sum For District

The Southern California Edison company will spend $155,000 for extensions and reinforcements of the electric distributing system in the Monrovia district, including Sierra Madre, during 1926, said District Manager Fred Schwartz upon receipt of information from R. H. Ballard, executive vice-president and general manager of the company, advising him that his recommendations for appropriations had been approved. This is the proportion of the $32,558,000 budget of the company for 1926, which it is contemplated to expend in the Monrovia district. The Monrovia district includes the towns of Sierra Madre, Arcadia, and Temple, and the intervening territory. The business and population in this district shows an annual increase of 20 per cent, which justifies this generous appropriation to keep pace with the additions which the company always makes to provide for present and future demands for service.

Work in High Sierras

In addition to the local appropriations for the 31 geographical districts in the ten counties of Southern and Central California where the company renders electric service, the annual budget carried appropriations for the continued development of its Big Creek-San Joaquin River project and new transmission line from the center of Southern California territory to the High Sierras, and for the greater Long Beach steam plant, all of which provide for generating steam and hydro electricity and transmitting it to the Monrovia district and other points on the system.

The Monrovia district ranks very high in the growth of Southern California and the development of the Southern California Edison company's system, according to Mr. Schwartz, who continued, "We are also a great factor in the business of this community. Our district payrolls will amount to approximately $56,400 for the year 1925. Our program for local reinforcement for the year includes reinforcement requirements at Monrovia and Sierra Madre substations; also enlargement of the capacity of many of the main feeder lines, and extensions where needed.

High Spot of Year

"This has been a very notable year in the history of the Southern California Edison company. In February the great Florence Lake tunnel was completed, diverting the upper waters of the San Joaquin river. During the year this tunnel has delivered, purely as a stream flow project without storage 140,000 acre feet into Huntington lake and has contributed to filling it to its maximum capacity. This was the most difficult single undertaking in the Big Creek-San Joaquin River project and it has been one of the most world renowned successes in the history of hydro electric development.

"We are now well under way on three great projects, all of which will have a direct bearing on the future of the Monrovia district, as they will tend to provide it with practically an unlimited source of electric energy.

"The third 220,000 volt transmission line, 230 miles in length, between the power houses on the Big Creek-San Joaquin River and Southern California was commenced on September 1 and will be completed about January, 1927.

More Water Storage

"We are also actively engaged in the Shaver Lake reservoir project which will have a storage capacity of 138,500 acre feet. It is proposed to have the Shaver Lake dam ready for storing the spring run-off in 1928 and the dam will be completed to its ultimate capacity with the runoff of the spring of 1929. When full, the water surface will be 2200 acres and a shore line 20 miles in length.

"Completion of the Shaver Lake project will make possible the building of other power houses on the Big Creek-San Joaquin River (Continued on Page Eight)

BETTER THAN PERUNA

WANTED: Someone to finance a machine for application of the Millikan Ray as a cure-all for human ailments. First one in the field sure to reap a fortune. Experience and medical knowledge unnecessary. Cash in on the free advertising the papers have given Dr. Millikan's discovery and the fact that "there's one born every minute," sometimes more. Will relinquish the field to any responsible party who will pay us 10 per cent of the profits if, when and as realized.

COULDN'T BE WORSE

Eggs 10,000,000 years old were found in Central Asia by an American scientist. They couldn't possibly be worse than some last summer's eggs, even if they were laid by a dinosaur.

LONG MAY IT WAVE

—ELSEWHERE

Henry Olsen says he wishes I would make an Observation concerning the municipal flag pole out in the middle of Central and Baldwin avenues. Good—I would gladly observe that flagpole almost anywhere but where it is.

That flagpole was erected and paid for by popular subscription during the fervor of war enthusiasm. It served a good purpose at the time. But we have learned a lot about automobile traffic control since then. One of them is that a center button is not so useful as buttons at the sides of the intersecting streets. Another is that an obstacle like the flagpole has no place in any traffic artery no wider than these streets.

At any rate, if the flag pole is to remain where it is, why not have the flag flying daily from its top?

SAD—

The saddest man I have met in a long time was under the spell of an incalculable loss. He had not suffered bereavement, nor had he been deprived of money or property. But I do not believe two or three other men, supposed in either case.

This man is noted for the number and warmth of his friendships. He was engaged in business with two or three other men, supposedly of high character and ideals matching his own. His associates decided upon business policies so foreign to his own standards of right and justice that his only course was to sever the connection and get out.

Loss of the business connection was of no consequence, for better jobs were offered him almost before he had left his old desk. But the destruction of his faith in those friends was a blow comparable to actual bereavement by suicide.

MAD—

The maddest man in my vicinity for a long time was responsible for the absence of Observations in last week's News. But he did not know it. In fact he did not know much of anything except that he was locked up in the steel cage back of the city hall and on the other side of the partition from where I was trying to write. He was anxious to get out, presumably to get back to the moonshine which was responsible for his locking up, and he tried to tell the whole world. Every time I started to write something he let out a new tirade. So I decided to exercise the liberty for which he was pleading and get away to more pleasant surroundings.

GLAD—

A legless pencil peddler on 7th street seemed to be having a picnic all to himself the other day, as I stood waiting for the traffic signal to ring. He had an intelligent face and I could not help wondering at the little grin which flitted across his face now and then.

I watched him so long I missed the "Go" signal trying to figure him out. Then it dawned upon me. As he sat upon the sidewalk he was just about "knee high to a flapper"—a lot of them. There wasn't a sign of a leer in his expression, and I think the passing show just tickled his sense of humor.

District Wardens Confer Degrees

The wardens of the Eighty-fourth Masonic district will confer the third degree on a candidate at the Sierra Madre Masonic temple tonight. The members of the degree team will be composed of the wardens of the lodges in San Gabriel, Temple, El Monte, Arcadia, Monrovia and other foothill towns. The occasion is the monthly meeting of the district officers. All Master Masons are invited.

Bazaar to Be Bigger Than Ever

Values and entertainment surpassing previous years will be offered when the doors of the Sierra Madre woman's club open Friday Dec. 4, for the day and evening bazaar held by the women of the Congregational Ladies' Aid society. Visitors may shop in Tokio, Belfast, Calcutta, Florence, Paris and Boston, and obtain the finest needlework for useful, ornamental and intimate home uses; also handkerchiefs of cobwebby texture, cooked foods prepared by celebrated chefs, potted and cut flowers, candies, novelties and rare antiques.

On the pike hot dogs may be bought at noon. At six o'clock a basket ham dinner will be served. Service is limited to 200 this year, and to avoid being turned away as some were last year, it is desirable that tickets be secured at Hartman's drug store.

A farce, "The Union Station," will be presented in the evening. Harvey Steinberger will be station master and James Healy the ticket agent. About 30 other people are in the cast. There is one sure laugh and sometimes two with each character, so one is sure of a laugh for each of the fifty cents paid for admission. Children may enjoy it for 25 cents.

Frank Monroe Smith will superintend the decorations. The menu for the dinner follows: Baked ham, scalloped potatoes, beets, cranberry jelly, Boston brown bread, cabbage and celery salad, apple pie a la mode, coffee.

Tom Henderson to Sell Tickets

Tom Henderson will be able to be around again in a few days, it is understood, and when the doctor will let him out of the house, he expects to start his annual ticket selling campaign. Mr. Henderson as chief of the fire department is making arrangements for the Volunteer Firemen's Christmas fund dance which will be held at the Woman's club on Saturday, Dec. 12. Prior's orchestra has been engaged and arrangements are being completed for one of the biggest affairs ever held at the club house. The proceeds from the dance go toward the municipal Christmas tree and basket fund.

Laurance Nourse of Arvin was calling on Sierra Madre friends this morning.

Has Exhibit of Pictures At Pasadena

Alfred J. Dewey, well known Sierra Madre man, has an exhibit of paintings in oils this week at the Vista del Arroyo hotel in Pasadena. The collection is composed of landscapes, portraits and westerns all of which are said to be getting favorable comment from art critics.

The exhibit opened last Saturday with a tea attended by a large number of art lovers from all over Southern California with prominent Pasadena women acting as hostesses. The pictures will remain at the hotel until Saturday, Dec. 5, and will be viewed by a large number of people in the meantime.

Mr. Dewey is extending a special invitation to his Sierra Madre friends next Saturday evening, this being considered the best day upon which to visit the exhibit.

Christmas Seals Have New Design

An old friend in a new dress. In another week millions of Christmas Seals will be released in California. The seal has a design of wreaths and Christmas candles and the design is particularly significant this year, said Robert Mitchell, president of the Los Angeles county tuberculosis association, which annually delivers the seals to its local associations, because this year is the fortieth anniversary of the lighting of these candles in America.

It is forty years ago that Dr. Edward L. Trudeau started the greatest humanitarian movement that the world has ever known. Out of his own work hundreds of thousands of tuberculosis sufferers have seen the sting and stigma of tuberculosis removed. Hope instead of despair now shines forth as a result of Dr. Trudeau's work and the accompanying agent, the Christmas Seal. More than $30,000,000 has been raised through the seal sale, but more important and impossible to gauge in money has been the educational work which has been done through the seal sale—that tuberculosis is a curable and a preventable disease. The work in each community stands out as a direct result of the sale of seals.

All of the machinery for fighting tuberculosis in California has been provided from the proceeds received from the seal sale. Nurses, clinics, summer camps, tuition classes and preventoria are some of the machinery that is in operation and is rapidly reducing the tuberculosis death rate in the state.

Mr. and Mrs. Donald C. Ashmore had as guests at tea Sunday afternoon, Mrs. George Humphries, Mrs. Hortense Hill, Mr. and Mrs. F. P. Baugh and children, and Mr. and Mrs. George B. Morgridge and children.

Inch and Quarter Rain Fell Here

Monday and Tuesday's rain added 1.27 to this year's total, according to Miss Edith Blumer. The total for the season is now 2.23, which is considerably less than at this time last year, the total being then 3.40 inches.

Cafeteria Needs Help Says Head

Although a competent woman was installed in the school cafeteria when service was resumed this week, the project is not yet out of the experimental stage, according to Mrs. W. C. Gruit, president of the Parent-Teachers association.

To keep the cafeteria on a paying basis there must be a patronage of at least 75 pupils daily, and individual mothers who believe in the idea and want their children to have the advantage of one or two hot dishes at noon must be willing to donate three hours work once every six weeks or two months. One woman alone cannot handle the noontime rush and the P. T. A. cannot afford to pay for extra help. The association membership is over 200 and out of that number the necessary assistance should be obtained. As soon as the cafeteria fails to pay for the cost of the food plus the $15 a week for help, service will be discontinued, as there is no desire to run up an unauthorized deficit.

Patronage has fallen below 70 on one day, Monday, the first day after the week's break in service. The greatest difficulty is gauging the food consumption which varies materially from day to day, as so many children's appetites seem capricious. Every day children throw away good nourishing vegetables, and small groups are seen making their way down town where money is spent on ice cream and candy.

Next Week's Menu

Monday, tomato soup, escalloped potatoes; Tuesday, beef stew; Wednesday, Spanish rice and chipped beef, apple sauce; Thursday, vegetable soup; Friday, macaroni and cheese, creamed carrots and peas.

Celebrates Fifty-First Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. T. R. Kinbrough celebrated their fifty-first wedding anniversary along with Thanksgiving day this year. Mr. and Mrs. Kinbrough were married at Salisbury, Nov. 26, 1874. Mrs. Kinbrough's maiden name was Mary Wilson. She was born in Alabama. Mr. Kinbrough was also born in Alabama. They are the parents of four boys and two girls, of whom two of the boys and both girls are still living. They also have thirteen grandchildren.

Miss Marjorie Thomas of Los Angeles is spending a few days with her aunt, Mrs. Hortense Hill.

Margretta Bains Becomes Bride of George Johnstone

Miss Margretta Bains, daughter of Mrs. M. M. Bains, 79 East Highland, was married to George Johnstone at the Church of the Ascension, on Wednesday at high noon. Rev. M. D. Kneeland officiated at the ceremony.

The bridal procession was led by Mary Dorothy Bains, younger sister of the bride, who acted as flower girl. Miss Linda Schwartz attended her as maid of honor. The bride was given away by her uncle, Preston Schwartz. Mr. Johnstone was attended by Elmer Halstrum of Alhambra. The ushers were Jreston Schwartz, Jr., Juan Hart, Hans Seifert and Harrison Bains.

Mr. and Mrs. Johnstone left immediately after the reception, which was held in the parish house, for San Francisco, where they will spend their honeymoon. Upon their return they will make their home in Hollywood.

Mr. Johnstone is the son of Mr. and Mrs. G. D. Johnstone and is associated with his father in the law practice in Los Angeles.

St. Rita's to Hold Bazaar Next Week

The annual bazaar held by the members of St. Rita's church will take place on Thursday and Friday, Dec. 10 and 11, both afternoon and evening, instead of on Dec. 8, as originally planned. This year the new school auditorium will be used for the bazaar. Judging from the enthusiasm which prevails among the people of the parish, this event will be the most successful ever held at St. Rita's. Among the many costly donations to be given away is a hope chest of walnut, lined with cedar. The hope chest contains every beautiful and useful article desired by the girl of today. The chest will be on display in the near future at Woodson Jones' store.

Friday evening is to be the big night. There will be dancing and not only the hope chest but many other things, including an electric lamp, and the sister doll, will be given away. On both nights light lunches will be served afternoon and evening.

Those in charge of the various booths are Mrs. Charles Klunk and Mrs. William Schiltz, aprons; Mrs. Ralph Solary, Mrs. Schutze and Mrs. George Oswald, towels; Mrs. Thill, fancy articles; Mrs. Otte, handkerchiefs; Mrs. Wolf and Mrs. J. Borradaile, art booth; Mrs. Schmitt will be in charge of the cooked food booth; Mrs. Val Miller, parcel post. There will also be a gypsy fortune teller. The young ladies of the parish will be in charge of the fish pond, doll and candy booths.

Mr. and Mrs. George P. Rikeman of 29 W. Live Oak, were host and hostess at a Thanksgiving dinner, their guests being Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Newton and children. A theater party followed.

Beware of Solicitors Says Gruit

Beware of solicitors for so-called charitable institutions, unless there is some evidence that the solicitor is duly authorized and that the charity solicited for is worthy, says W. C. Gruit, secretary of the chamber of commerce. According to Mr. Gruit a number of solicitors have been in Sierra Madre lately and have made misrepresentations in regard to their authorization. The chamber of commerce maintains a special committee which investigates charities whose workers solicit in this city and if found worthy the solicitors are given a letter to the chamber. Mr. Gruit's memorandum to the members on the subject follows:

It has come to the attention of this office that solicitors for various charitable organizations when soliciting funds have stated that the chamber of commerce sanctioned and sponsored that particular solicitation. In some cases the solicitor has not even called at this office and in others the committee on solicitations have not felt that the time was propitious or the cause was such as to warrant wholesale solicitation.

In the future anyone calling at the chamber of commerce for permission to solicit will be asked to furnish references. These references will be thoroughly looked into, and if found to be in order and the cause worthy will be brought to the attention of the committee and if recommended the committee a letter sanctioning the solicitation will be given solicitor.

If the solicitor has no letter from the chamber of commerce, will mean that this office either has not seen the solicitor or that the committee has not felt justified in recommending.

Doing as One Likes

"SOMETIME I'm going to be in a position to do as I like," Emerson said to me. Emerson was young and impulsive, and in this instance he was being forced to change his plans in order to accommodate some one else. He didn't like it, and he was looking forward to the time when he should be his own boss and be able to direct his own affairs.

I wonder if there is such a situation for any one?
Mother was the director of our house during our childhood. Father went to her when he wanted money, which she always kept in a little walnut box in the left-hand corner of the upper bureau drawer; he asked her advice about everything and took it. We children knew that her word was law, that her consent meant freedom, that when she said she would have a thing done, that ended it.

And yet I wonder now as I look back upon it, if mother ever did as she liked. She must have worked on often when she would have liked to rest; she stayed at home, to allow us to go; she gave us comforts and pleasures and privileges in order that ours might be increased. It seemed to me that she could do anything she wanted to do, and yet as long as she lived she seemed to be doing what someone else liked, rather than following her own desires.

I believe it is commonly so. I had planned a quiet, pleasant day last Sunday. I was tired; I was not going to church; I was not going to see anyone. I was going to loaf, to lie and read an interesting book with the light coming over my left shoulder, and if I should drop off to sleep, why not?

The telephone rang. It was Bayer's father speaking. He was a busy man, he explained. He hated to disturb me, but he wanted to talk to me about the boy. He must take the first train back. Would I see him? What else could I do? The morning was gone before he left. I had done no reading.

The doctor called me at lunch time to say that Church was to be operated on at the hospital at two and wanted very much to see me; would I come over? Of course.

It was midnight when I at last crawled into bed.
"No one can ever do as he pleases," I growled, "at least until he dies, and then I suppose he'll have little to say about what happens."

Will Celebrate Start of Advent

Next Sunday, Nov. 29, being the first Sunday in Advent, is the day on which financial pledges for the Episcopal church's support are taken. The campaign is made in every parish in the American church on this day and every communicant should make his subscription without fail, as the budget of expenses must be met.

The usual church services will be held on this day commencing with a Low celebration of the Holy Communion in the morning at 8 o'clock, followed by a choral eucharist with the sermon at 11 o'clock. At the latter service, there will be a corporate communion for all men and boys of the parish. In the afternoon members of the finance committee will call at the various homes to collect the pledges, after which tea will be served the committeemen by the Junior Altar Guild members.

The day will be fittingly closed by choral evensong at 7:30 o'clock to which all members of the parish and their friends are urged to be present. The choir will render special music at this service and a short address will be given by the rector.—(Committee.)

Property owners, the contractor or his assigns, and all other persons interested in the said work or the said assessment, feeling aggrieved by any act or determination of the Superintendent of Streets or the City Engineer in relation thereto, or who claim that the work has not been performed according to the contract in a good and substantial manner, or who claim that any portion of the work was for any reason omitted or illegally included in the contract for the same, or having or making any objection to the correctness of the assessment, or diagram, or other act, determination or proceeding of the Superintendent of Streets or City Engineer, shall, prior to the day fixed for the hearing on the assessment, appeal to the said Board of Trustees by briefly stating in writing the grounds of appeal.

Radio Golf Score Goes Higher Now

The Bobby Jones of radio golf, it is believed, lives in Sierra Madre. His name is E. A. Kraft and he lives at 448 West Highland. Last week the News set a par score of 40 stations for the Sierra Madre radio course and a few days later Mr. Kraft beat the score by 99, with a Radiola Superheterodyne purchased from G. I. Farman. The list was so long that it was hard to believe, so Staff Sadler was delegated to check the score and reported it accurate. The 139 stations gotten by Mr. Kraft follow:
